SAINT TERESA OF CALCUTTA

Recently, a man met me on the street. He said: "Are you Mother Teresa?" I said "yes". He said: "Please send somebody to my house. My wife is half mental and I am half blind. But we are longing to hear the loving sound of a human voice." They were well to do people. They had everything in their home. Yet they were dying of loneliness, dying to hear a loving voice.

How do we know someone like that is not next to our house? Do we know who they are, where they are? Let us find them, and when we find them, love them. Then when we love them we will serve them.

Today God loves the world so much that He gives you, He gives me, to love the world, to be His love, His compassion. It is such a beautiful thought for us—and a conviction—that you and I can be that love and compassion.

Do we know who our own poor are? Do we know our neighbour, the poor of our own area? It is so easy for us to talk and talk about the poor of other places. Very often we have the suffering, we have the lonely, we have the people old, unwanted, feeling miserable and they are near us and we don't even know them. We have no time to even smile at them.

Tuberculosis and cancer [are] not the great diseases. I think the much greater disease is to be unwanted, unloved. The pain that these people suffer is very difficult to understand, to penetrate. I think this is what our people all over the world are going through, in every family, in every home.

This suffering is being repeated in every man, woman and child. I think Christ is undergoing his Passion again. And it is for you and for me to help them to be Veronica, to be Simon to them.

Our poor people are great people, a very lovable people. They don't need our pity and sympathy. They need our understanding love and they need our respect. We need to tell the poor that they are somebody to us, that they too, have been created, by the same loving hand of God, to love and be loved.

~ Mother Teresa: Come Be My Light
